Fourteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

May I never boast
except in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ.

— Galatians 6:14

Dear Parishioners,

This Sunday's Liturgy invites us to focus on the thought that we have to pack light for the journey because God will provide all that we need.

If you are preparing to go on a trip but could only take one thing with you, what would that one thing be? Perhaps you would take a GPS to make sure you do not get lost. Personally, I would say that this is one of the best inventions ever made in the 21st century. It has been extremely useful to me. However, what good would a GPS be if you did not have a car to plug it into? Perhaps you would take a smartphone to stay connected with others. But what good would a smartphone be if you had no charger to keep the battery from dying? Perhaps you would take a flashlight so you could see in the dark. But what good would a flashlight be if you don't have extra batteries to keep it burning? When you think about it and come right down to it, it's almost impossible to think of going on a journey and choosing only one thing to take along. And yet isn't it that what Jesus is telling the seventy-two he appoints in today's Gospel and sends in pairs to every town and place he intended to visit? Jesus clearly tells the seventy-two not to take along a money bag, sack, or sandals, but he does tell them to carry along one thing and one thing only, that is PEACE. Into whatever house you enter, first say, 'Peace to this household.'

This Sunday's gospel passage provides several points for us to reflect upon. First, it challenges us to reflect upon the baggage we carry with us throughout life, namely, material possessions as well as emotional guilt and grudges that weigh us down and prevent us from communicating Christ's peace to others. The point here is not that possessions are bad in and of themselves. We just simply need to be careful not to let our possessions possess us, so that we can experience first in our own hearts the peace Christ wishes us to share with others. The important question is: How do I relate to the things in my life? What do I need to let go of in order to lighten my load and move forward?

Second, this Sunday's Gospel invites us to look at how we are doing at trusting God and others. We profess with our lips that God will provide, and yet in our society today, we face the enormous power of a consumer culture that tries to convince us more is better and that as much as we have, we still need more. At the same time, we live in a society that promotes fierce independence, where you rely on no one but yourself to get ahead in the world.

In contrast, Jesus was able to tell the seventy-two to make their journey empty-handed because of his profound trust that since God the Father was always providing for his needs as he worked to accomplish the task for which the Father had sent him, that the Father would do the same for all of his children. But Jesus knew that God provided for his needs through the kindness and generosity of others. Again some questions for our reflections: Do I trust that God is providing for my needs? Do I accept that God sometimes uses the generosity of others to care for me? Do I let God use me to care and provide for the needs of others?

Life is a journey, and no matter where we come from, our destination is the same. As we continue heading toward the Kingdom, remember to pack light because God is here to provide all that we need.

May God bless us all,

Father Angelito

Are you aware that St. Catherine of Siena has a Pastoral Council?

Yes we do! So you are asking why?

What do they do?

What is a Pastoral Council exactly?

The revised Code of Canon Law calls for each parish to form and maintain a Pastoral Council. This council serves in an advisory capacity to the Pastor. The council holds no authority, has no budget, and has no power. The Council's purpose is to identify matters of interest and areas for growth within the parish and to advise the Pastor to the Council's findings. Over the next few months, we will be introducing its members to you so that you will be able to identify council members and approach them with your creative and positive ideas to help our parish grow and thrive as an enlivened community of Jesus. We will look forward to walking with you in the journey together.
