FROM THE DESK OF THE PASTOR

Dear Parishioners,

Due to the pandemic, the traditional Simbang Gabi, the novena Masses in preparation for the Feast Day of Christmas introduced by the Filipinos in all parts of the world, most particularly in our county, changed. Following all restrictions and protocols, it began on December 15 and runs through December 23. All of the Masses are held at St. Benedict Church in Holmdel. I am scheduled to celebrate the Mass on December 21. Kindly look at our parish website for more details.

FOURTH SUNDAY of ADVENT

It is a fact that we use all kinds of imagery for holiness and commitment. Our readings for today use the imagery of the dwelling places of God. David did not simply go off and begin his great construction enterprise without checking with his advisor, the prophet Nathan. The Lord speaks to Nathan in a dream, and gives Nathan a message. Because of this David does not get to finish the work, and it falls on his son, Solomon, to complete the building of the Temple in Jerusalem. His family line would be forever blessed, and this was achieved through the birth of Jesus.

Similarly, we use the image of the house for many aspects of our lives. Our political institutions are often named houses. "House of David" meant the entire chosen people of God rather than a building. For us as a faith community, our house of God can be both our physical place of public worship and the house of our hearts. Are we sometimes caught up in the architecture's trappings and lavish liturgy than the real meaning of our worship? What type of house can we make for God this Christmas, at the end of the year in which our own homes may have been places of refuge and safety but also places of restriction and confinement, away from family and friends? What did we learn about the things that make our houses good places to be? Were these physical items or ways we use our time? Should we ration our social media activity to present in real-time to others, or do new technologies offer us more opportunities to connect with those who are isolated and unwell? How can we be more fully the house of God as we go forth to love and serve the Lord this Christmas? We remember that the first house of Jesus was a stable and that he had to rely on strangers' for shelter. Are we able to take this as our model for our Christian life?

THE FEAST OF THE NATIVITY OF OUR LORD JESUS

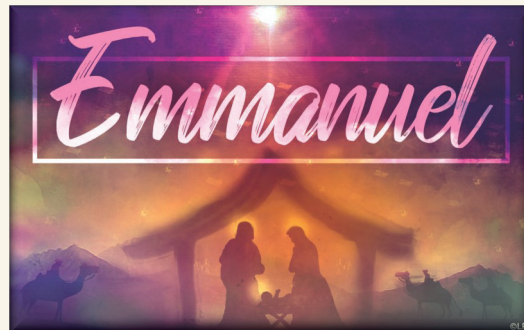

I want to share with you a beautiful story about a Buddhist monk who heard about Jesus. He decided to learn more about him, so he read the four Gospel accounts. He was extremely impressed with Jesus as a person and found his teachings deeply moving and relevant. When he had finished his investigations, he decided that Jesus was indeed an outstanding individual, but he could not accept the claim that Jesus was God in the form of a human being. The monk could not understand why God would choose to come into our world as one of us. His question was, what would be the point?

One day, while he was walking along a path through the woods, thinking about this puzzle and totally absorbed in his meditation, he discovered that he had wandered into an area very close to a nest of ants, and the insects were all around his feet. His arrival had caused panic: the worker ants were scurrying back to the safety of their nest, the larger soldier ants had come out to face the danger, and the scene was one of utter confusion. The monk was upset that he had unwittingly been the source of such terror and stepped to normal, and the ants went about their business again. The monk thought, "How could I reassure these creatures that I mean them no harm? The only way would be to get down to their level and communicate with them in their own language." And suddenly, he had the answer to the mystery which had baffled him.

Many people thought Christmas is a celebration chiefly for children, but we might remember that the Christian faith is for the adults. As we grow in age and understanding of the world around us, our relationship with God can develop and deepen as well. Perhaps if we think more about our faith as a relationship with God, it might help us in this regard. Keep in mind that Jesus is the Emmanuel, God with us, present to us when we pray, and when we celebrate the Eucharist together. Christmas is the beginning of the Jesus story, which continues in each of us. Amen. Have a blessed and Merry Christmas to all!

Father Angelito

LIVE THE LITURGY

Inspiration for the week

Does the world realize that it is waiting? As we go about all of the busyness of our lives and entertain our distractions, there are many holes and gaps in our lives that need to be filled. We are always wanting more, but not really sure what that "more" needs to be. Fulfillment, happiness, contentment, and true satisfactions are fleeting occurrences and often come to us in illusive ways. What we think is the ultimate fix to our anxious emptiness really is only a fancy trend that we entertain. The world does not realize any more today than it did over two thousand years ago that it is waiting for a Savior. We need a Savior. We need to see and embrace the God who has broken into history and become one with us. It is this union of God and man that sets us on a straight path, orders our relationships, establishes proper focus and goals, and tells us whose kingdom we really are meant to serve. The world does not know how truly lost it is. Do you realize how lost you are and that the One you need most is here among us and within your grasp?

Faithful

REMEMBER IN PRAYER

Christmas Prayer For World Health

Come, Lord Jesus, Prince of Peace and Beloved Savior, come into our hearts this unique Christmas Season of 2020 and fill us with Your gifts of love and joy.

With You, we seek refuge during this Coronavirus Pandemic.

With Mary and Joseph, we rejoice and thank you. With the Angels and saints in heaven we sing "Peace On Earth."

Continue to unite all people in peace and shed Your light of understanding and faith upon this World, as we cope with this pandemic.

With the Magi and the Shepherds, we bow before You with hearts full of wonder.

Help us to follow You faithfully and to share the Good News of Your coming.

With You, we ask Your protection of our families, our nation and the world against this virus, please restrain our fears and anxiety.

Grant that health, the fruit of life, may reign throughout the world.

Amen.

GLORY
TO GOD
IN THE HIGHEST
EARTH
PEACE TO THOSE
ON WHOM
HIS FAVOR
RESTS.
