FROM THE PASTOR

Dear Parishioners,

SECOND SUNDAY OF LENT

Many years ago, the Pope came to the United States. As he was being driven from the airport, he was admiring the limo in which he was riding. He was so impressed with what a nice car, that he eventually he asked the driver whether he could drive it. How could the driver say NO to the Pope, so he traded places with the Pope. The Pope was having such fun driving, that before he knew it, he was seriously exceeding the speed limit, weaving in and out of the traffic and cutting off other drivers. A police officer spotted him and pulled him over. As the officer walked toward the car, he noticed the man in the back seat, but was shocked when he saw who was driving. He walked back to his squad car and called up the police chief. "I don't know what to do. I just flagged down a very important person." The chief said, "Well, give him a ticket." The officer said, "You don't understand. He is really important." The chief said, "Well, who is it, a Senator, the Governor, the President?" The officer said, "I have no idea who he is, but whoever he is, he's got the Pope as his chauffeur."

Today we hear about Jesus, whose importance far outweighs anyone who ever lived. St. Matthew tells us today of Jesus' Transfiguration. The event is recorded four times in the New Testament. In all three of the Gospels, the Transfiguration is preceded by Peter's confession of Jesus as the Messiah. Jesus had asked the disciples, "Who do people say that I am?" He then asked, "Who do you say that I am?" Peter answered, "The son of the living God."

After this wonderful profession of faith by Peter, Jesus began to teach the Apostles that he would suffer, be put to death, and on the third day, be raised. That is when Peter got in trouble with Jesus. He told Jesus none of that would happen to him. No one at that time, no teacher or any writing connected the two, for the Messiah was supposed to be a mighty leader who would victoriously conquer all the enemies of the Jewish people and establish forever a kingdom of peace and justice under God's rule.

Truth, compassion, and kindness feature strongly in the life of Jesus, and so does climbing mountains. Last week we heard how the devil took him up a very high mountain to tempt him. And in the Gospel today, Jesus led Peter, James, and John up a mountain, not any old mountain, but a high one. High mountains are dangerous, and people die on them; climbers need stamina, determination, and strength. Was Jesus making a point here? Yes, that life is about challenges and sufferings, and that a life of ease is no life at all. Should life be combined with compassion and caring for people? Yes, in its own way, caring can involve hardships, and in the long term, maybe difficult. St. Paul urges us to bear hardships for the sake of the Gospel, but he adds, "relying on the power of God." God, our father, asks us to reach out for his help.

In the first reading, the Lord told Abraham to leave his homeland and his family, and travel into the unknown. It was to be a life involving great hardships, sacrifices, and sufferings. How could he be sure that it was the voice of God and not the imaginings of his mind? He acted in faith. But the most challenging part is always summoning the courage and trust to get on and do it, "relying on the power of God." The Apostles had a similar call, and told Jesus, "We have left everything and followed you." It is the same struggle that many Christians encounter as they seek their vocation in life.

It is rewarding for the three apostles after climbing up the high mountain with a vision that is unimaginable to most people. Together they had glimpsed at the glory of heaven and were told not to describe it to anyone else until after Jesus had risen from the dead. They saw Jesus in his heavenly glory, the glory he had before the beginning of the world. What a remarkable experience for them as they saw the great prophets, Moses and Elijah, whose words they knew very well from Sacred Scriptures.

The Transfiguration event, which was experienced by the three disciples, show that Jesus appears as his father's special envoy bringing salvation to all people. Lent is the season for God to demonstrate the depth of his favor to us. This is God's eternal plan, which came into reality today with Jesus' appearance. During this second week of Lent, faithful believers can see and reflect that Abraham, Sarah, and Jesus were all called to serve others. Amen.

May God bless you,

Father Angelito

Diocese issues advisory on coronavirus concerns

With federal health officials issuing recent warnings about the potential spread of the coronavirus in the United States, and news coming in from around the globe about extreme measures to stem the spread, the Diocese of Trenton has issued the following instructions:

The Diocese has always advised the faithful that sickness is a valid reason not to attend Mass or other Church gatherings where large groups assemble.

- At Mass, no member of the faithful is obliged:
- (1) to shake hands at the sign of peace;
 - (2) to receive the Precious Blood of Christ from the chalice;
 - (3) to receive the Body of Christ on the tongue unless that is his/her preference.

With the concerns about the coronavirus, the faithful are encouraged to take all the same precautions they would follow regarding the flu. Use normal good judgment. If you are sick or have flu-like symptoms, stay home. The Holy Sacrifice of the Mass is broadcast on several television channels, and the sick can make a "spiritual communion" until they return to good health.

For more information about the coronavirus threat, go to TrentonMonitor.com/coronavirus.

IMPORTANT

Due to concerns about the flu season and coronavirus warning, we will continue to temporarily cease offering the Precious Blood, along with the Greetings of Peace, at Mass.

This has been our practice for several years and is only a temporary measure to prevent the spread of illness.

Once the season is past, we will continue offering the Precious Blood and the Greetings of Peace.

Thank you for your understanding.

Catechetical Ministry

The annual Catechetical Formation day was held on Saturday, February 21, 2020. Catechists from various ministries attend each year knowing how important it is for them to have ongoing formation of the faith. Dr. Edward Sri was the speaker for the formation day, he is a theologian, author, and well-known Catholic speaker who appears regularly on EWTN. Dr. Sri offered a free evening on Friday, February 21, 2020 and provided the participants an opportunity to look at their personal preparations for Lent and how to journey with Jesus and Mary. On Saturday, he focused on Discipleship, how to live a Vibrant Faith in a Secular Age, by focusing on the challenges for Parents, families and parish leaders. Bishop O'Connell reminded the catechists in his homily, "Your role as catechists has never been more important. Together, you and I must find the paths that lead young people toward Christ and the Church, not away."

THE MONITOR NEWS UPDATE

Five parishes to keep doors open for 24 Hours for the Lord

Five parishes in the Diocese will welcome all who wish to participate in 24 Hours for the Lord, a Lenten devotion planned in churches around the world March 20 and 21. The local parishes will open their doors for 24 hours, during which time visitors can pray before the Blessed Sacrament in Eucharistic Adoration, seek the Sacrament of Reconciliation, join in healing services or spend time in prayer.

Twenty-four Hours for the Lord began in 2018 when Bishop David M. O'Connell, C.M., asked parishes to join with Catholics throughout the world in the initiative that was established by Pope Francis. Father Jeffrey Kegley, pastor of St. Mary Parish, Middletown, explained, "In participating in 24 Hours for the Lord, a person will encounter the love and mercy of Jesus Christ as their sins are forgiven. After Confession, people again have another opportunity to encounter Jesus in Eucharistic Adoration. Both Confession and Adoration provide an amazing opportunity for healing of souls."

Along with St. Mary Parish, the other parishes hosting 24 Hours for the Lord are Nativity, Fair Haven; Mary, Mother of the Church, Bordentown; Holy Cross, Rumson, and St. Michael, West End. For times and other information, go to TrentonMonitor.com and search for 24 Hours for the Lord.
